DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-16, 18, and 37, drawn to a Hp-Hb complex operably linked to a substance and compositions comprising a Hp-Hb complex, classified in class 530, subclass 385.
- II. Claims 17 and 29-31, drawn to a method of treatment of an individual comprising administration of a Hp-Hb complex, classified in class 424, subclass 184.1.
- III. Claims 19-27, and 32-35, drawn to a CD163 variant and compositions comprising the CD163 variant, classified in class 530, subclass 350.
- IV. Claims 28 and 38, drawn to a method of treatment of an individual comprising administration of a CD163 variant, classified in class 514, subclass 2.
- V. Claim 36, drawn to a method for diagnosing a pathological condition, classified in class 424, subclass 9.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Groups I and III are not related. Group I is drawn to a Hp-Hb complex and Group II is drawn to a CD163 variant. They differ structurally and functionally and cannot be used together or interchangeably.

Groups I and Group II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the complex of Group I can be used in a variety of methods such as purification assays, ligand binding assays, or other diagnostic assays. Groups I and IV-V are not related. The complex of Group I cannot be used in the methods of Groups IV-V.

Group II is not related to Group III. The protein of Group III cannot be used in the method of Group II. Group II is not related to Groups IV and V because the methods require different reagents and different method steps, and have different goals and different outcome measures.

Group III and Groups IV and V are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the protein of Group III can be used in a variety of methods such as purification assays, ligand binding assays, or other diagnostic assays.

Group IV is distinct from Group V because the methods are drawn to different conditions and thus have different goals and different outcome measures.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

Because these inventions are distinct and/or unrelated for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, and the searches required for the different groups are different from each other, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
